

To whom it may concern

Vienna, July 26, 2021

It is a great pleasure to recommend Civil Society Human and Institutional Development Programme (CHIP) as partner organization.

Light for the World is an international organization specializing in inclusive development. Our goal is an inclusive society that is open to all and leaves no one behind. We champion accessible eye care and support inclusive education and basic living conditions conducive to a self-determined life, so that persons with disabilities can participate with equal rights in society. Light for the World has been working closely with local partners in Pakistan from 1996 to 2018.

Light for the World had a direct partnership with CHIP since 2008 and has up to now only very positive experience. CHIP has high potential and is a very professional and reliable partner. Their innovative and rights-based approach on rehabilitation and inclusion of people with disabilities has been developed into a dynamic and strong community-based rehabilitation (CBR) programme with a focus on social inclusion of women with disability for economic empowerment.
